"With Alessandro in London, of course! He exclaimed it in a violent triumph. He turned into his big nephew." Didn't you say that you changed my mind? "Then before I can answer he was destroying in in." Come come. Il. Your case has been packed for you. All you have to do is choose something to wear to travel in, then we ... Nell was looking back over his shoulder, a puzzled frown on his face. Xander wasn't saying Nothing, nothing, and his sad position did not encourage the questions. What was happening? Why did you change your mind? 'Xander-' 'do as theea says, "he cut." We have to start in ten minutes if we want to do ours Air slot from Athens ". With what she turned and go away. Busted and confused, in the one is allowed to be hurried upstairs. Xander had to decide to take it with him before she starts looking for her but, why? "You don't have to be upset when he leaves anger, Pethi Mou," the old lady murmured next to her. 'She loves You. This makes it jealous and possessive. All men Pascalis are the same. You worry that you could meet other beautiful young people in London and leave it, as if I were so cruel ... "Nell heard a blushing staining his cheeks to the faith of Thea in the fidelity of in the great grandson, because she knew Whether you could be so cruel, it would be so cruel if the opportunity had been given. This marriage was finished until he was worried. The flight to Athens airport was fast and smooth and without problems. While they flew through L 'Isola First head towards the mainland. Nell didn't even take a look at a look. He came to love that little island but she would not return to it. And his only regret to leave him back was we must also leave a tearing. "You will come to See me soon, "the old lady did his promise. In he didn't have the heart to say no, never more. The landing in Athens was like being dropped from heaven in hell. When they started the tra Wheel charge from the helicopter to the plane waiting, people stopped to stand and fix. Xander didn't seem to notice. In had a feeling that she saw nothing beyond her goal of her, who in this case was his private plane waiting on the asphalt. With only a few minutes to save to hit their slots, they embark on the plane and were tuning to the track just moments after they had stopped in their places. And the entire transition from the island to the plane had been reached in an empty cavity of perfect silence. It was terrible. Nothing party, she tried to do so, she looked at the other. The body language has done everything for them. Dressed with a sharp razor's suit, he was sad, cut to his lips and supremely contained inside his sé. In, on the other hand, he had nothing he wanted to say. She wore the same clothes she had traveled to Greece, especially because they were hanging in the closet and she hadn't treated what she wore as long as she returned to the stairs within the assigned time. The only difference is that her hair had been left loose because he didn't dare to waste time waving in case he left the island without her. While he would go out of the sun, where Xander was waiting for him, he had taken a look at her from behind those miserable sunglasses, her mouth had compressed then he had just turned and went on horseback. He would have suffered the help of him in the helicopter without flinching and kept his gaze fixed directly as he settled in his place. The tension had launched around all of them throughout the jump at Athens airport, making it almost impossible to breathe. Now they are sitting surrounded by the type of luxury trip that most people read only, yet they could have been Extracted on a packed package flight, the way they sat through the corridor from each other, ignoring the presence of the other. As soon as the Xander level plane was climbing standing. The sunglasses had gone but did not make any difference; The long and shiny eyelashes of him had taken their place and he refused to look at him anyway. He him In his office area built tailor-made towards the rear of the plane and a smiling Greek stern led to the refreshment - to Xander's instructions, he assumed, because no one had asked her if he wanted something. However, the newly prepared tea was like the manna from the sky after having drunk nothing for hours. And she even managed to bite the selection of sandwiches just made before she gave up and pushed the tray away. After that you spent some time launching a couple of magazines without focusing on a single page. Then, in the end, her because she felt so completely dragged and exhausted by all the emotional stresses of her, she rested her head against the seat and went to sleep. When in the end he opened his eyes again, he found Xander standing up on her. The nerves-ends of her jumped on her edge, the defenses of her who looks up in position so violently that she had gained managing to fall asleep was lost in that instant. A nerve checked in her jaw while she looked at him. She quickly brood eyes away. "We will land by landing at Heathrow in twenty minutes," he then informed her you intervenes, her body language is still loud and clear. The walk through Heathrow was like being positioned under a microscope. As happened in Athens, people stopped in their leafs and stared at. He wanted to curl in a narrow chrysalis and simply disappear. With a trio of resistant bodyguards who rely around them, they must look one of those celebrity pairs you've seen sketches through the tabloids. He hated her and kept her eyes lowered and was actually grateful for the Xander protective arm around her as she walked beside her like an elegant, provisionable cat who wanted to jump out and wild a couple of those faces that fix the appearances, She thought again with a small grimace. And she wondered curiously because she hadn't been treated for this kind of walk along the competition when they left London for Greece. But she didn't ask; Né the man nor the moment nor the fried pump in her throat of her heartbeat of her encouraged her speech. Rico was waiting outside with the Bentley, the back door of him was opened. She was casting inside the luxury car interiors, followed Xander, the door closed, silenced silence around them with the same torsion of an ear torsion of an ear rope orchest that tuned the tools. Appliciti with all smooth Xander efficiency has clearly given for granted. Nell he would smile if she had the will to do it, but she didn't. She had never felt cold and unhappy or isolated-and this was saying something, she resolved her as she stared out of the machine window. 'Do you really like to live like this?' The words of her were out before she could stop them. 'I apologize?' That she had surprised him with a real speech showed in the embrace of her voice. "As if I were a beast that lives in a zoo," she lit up and looked at him stiffen. "Or maybe you're the star in the town of television reality for quintessential," she went on, she wanted her to keep quiet, but unable to prevent himself going ahead. "All you do, wherever you are in the world, is supervised and discussed and brought. The press I love you. Those people come back there I love. The routes appear in crazy shapes so you can go through without obstacles while they are going and GOOGGANO AND ANSIMANO. "He dared to take him a look at him, then he wanted he didn't. He was sitting as a rock block, no reaction. He raged her; She didn't know why she did it. "Is there a weekly rating on who is hunted by your life after?" She lushed. "Large companies fall to one million or two phone calls? The masters receive bodyguards downloaded that they don't fit the bulletin Hard boy? "" Shut up, in the, "recommended very quietly. She wanted her to be able to be able, but she was in the scroll here." If you don't please the masses, I go too? Vote for the little annoying wife so our wonderful hero must no longer listen to it! She saw her hands curled in two fists on her knees. "Don't go anywhere, so you don't build your hopes." Hopes. " Could I be pregnant? 'Lampedó with him with acid bite. "Well, that event should increase the evaluations. We produce your son and heir in front of a blaze of cameras and maybe we will have your lover who watches from the terminus just to add some spices?" The Snake-like round of his body is Come without notice. For such a big man, she hit with an amazing grace and Lothe. Before she also knew what she was going on that she had trapped it in the corner of the seat with a hand at her neck and the other stopped through her mouth looking at her. 'Now listen ... "he hissed with a subtle warning. Nell it took it over the upper part of his hand tightening, really fixing, and for the first time he took his pallor, the voltage that deeply cuts grooves around his wide And sensual mouth. But they were the eyes that kept her, his eyes like the black crystal that thwarted them thus abruptly wounded. "I give you the right to mock me and my lifestyle," a little in Tauty. " He also admired that probably thanks to hearing the sour whisk of your language. But you don't mock up in the same way and you will not degrade our unborn child! 'Is what she had done? Oh, yes, it was what she had done, in recognized. She's lips trembled under her hand. "And don't cry," she added a driven borboll. "I have quite torment to condense without you add your tears! 'His breasts rose on a strictly suppressed and trembling thrill. Some of that torment admitted to flashing through his eyes. A little a couple of big curses. Foreign, therefore, with the same unpredictable flexed movement, let go of her and slotted in her own place. "You have no idea what you do," he said then in Rough toned fury while he sat down there and trembled. "You don't have Idea of your damn power to draw sweeplessly from the masses! 'Shocked by this, he slammed his eyelids in loss. Turning the dark head of her, she captured the surprised flashing and her marriage of her has hardened in cynicism. Prelouge content 1.Non name 2.
